

JAMES V. TEMPLE

Jim Temple is part of ACFO-FS as the functional team leader assigned to the area of Cost Management on the FMMI project. He is a consultant from RWC Consulting Group, a management consulting organization specializing in accounting and operational activities in financial services organizations.

Mr. Temple's has over 25 years' experience in banking operations, accounting operations and treasury management. He has managed various operational units during his 15 years in banking at the local, state and national levels. He has served as Group Controller of both Operations and Bank Facilities groups of super-regional banks. Mr. Temple has led teams of consultants on assignment to several Agencies and OCFO in financial operation and cleanup activities since 2002. As a cost management specialist, he has built and implemented various cost accounting systems in medium- and large-size financial organizations.

Mr. Temple holds a BA degree in Psychology from Vanderbilt University, and an MBA in Finance from the University of Houston. He is also a graduate of the Fuqua School of cash management at Duke University and has earned the Certified Cash Manager (CCM) status of the Association of Financial Professionals.