

Margo Elizabeth Erny, Chief Financial Officer, Risk Management Agency

Margo has 25 + years of financial management experience with more than 20 of that at USDA. Prior to serving as the Chief Financial Officer for Risk Management Agency and the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, she worked for the Food Safety and Inspection Service in both the Financial Management and Budget areas. Prior to her time at Food Safety, she worked for the National Finance Center on the design and implementation of the FFIS and many other corporate USDA systems.

She remains completely fascinated with the interworkings of public financial management, the United States farm economy and global farm markets. "Working for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation is the perfect combination of interesting accounting technical work, economics, and the promotion of policies that feed America."

Margo passed the CPA exam in Louisiana in 1986 and has a degree in Accounting from Nicholls State University located way down south in Cajun country in Thibodeaux, Louisiana.

Margo currently lives in Alexandria, Virginia with her husband of the last 10 years.
